LADIES AND GENTS, START YOUR ENGINES!
Collector cars from around the world are cruising into town for the Scottsdale Auto Auctions, all of which take place January 11-19, 2020. This automotive extravaganza is a nine-day series of individual events, each designed to thrill novice and experienced collectors alike.

While you’re in town for the auctions, be sure to take advantage of Scottsdale’s warm winter weather with a round of golf, a trip along the Old Town Wine and Ale trails, or a hike in the McDowell Sonoran Preserve. Then when you’re ready to head for the auctions, take this guide along with you – it’s the perfect passenger!
HISTORY & OVERVIEW

Like most ingenious ideas, Barrett-Jackson Collector Car Auction was created out of necessity. In the 1960s, Tom Barrett was looking to sell his 1933 Cadillac V16 Town Car and Russ Jackson was looking to buy it. Ironically, the two never struck a deal, but the failed transaction did lay the groundwork for what is today known as "The World's Greatest Collector Car Auction."®

Approximately 250,000 collectors and enthusiasts flock to Scottsdale each year to see more than 1,000 of the most unique automobiles on the auction block. There's plenty to see and do, even if you don't plan on making a big purchase. Barrett-Jackson draws just as much attention with its lifestyle experience, which features fine art, fashion and gourmet cuisine.

RUSSO AND STEELE COLLECTOR AUTOMOBILE AUCTIONS

HISTORY & OVERVIEW
As one of the nation’s premier collector car auction houses, Russo and Steele specializes in European sports cars, American muscle cars, and hot rods and customs. Russo and Steele continues to innovate, set new records and attract a worldwide audience. Created by enthusiasts for enthusiasts, Russo and Steele’s auction-in-the-round format puts buyers right on the floor alongside the cars. All event attendees have access to the exciting yet intimate auction block area.

Russo and Steele’s intimate and high-energy atmosphere is something the event’s founders, husband-and-wife duo Drew and Josephine Alcazar, worked hard to create. Not ones to follow the conventional car auction system, the couple bucked tradition when they named the event – Russo for the European sports car Russo Rubino and Steele to represent the “Detroit Iron” of American muscle cars.

HISTORY & OVERVIEW
Efforts are revving up at Leake Auction Company in preparation for its inaugural Scottsdale, Arizona auction, which is slated for January 15-19, 2020. Leake, a Ritchie Bros. owned company, is America’s first collector car auction company, having launched its inaugural event in 1964. According to Gary Bennett, General Manager of Ritchie Bros’ Collector Car Sector, the Scottsdale event is expected to be the biggest in the company’s storied history.

Much of the buzz surrounding the Scottsdale event comes from the featured Car of Dreams collection belonging to internationally recognized collector John Stallupi. Stallupi is selling nearly 120 vehicles without reserve, including big-ticket items like a 1968 Chevrolet Corvette L88 T-top coupe, a 1958 Eldorado Biarritz convertible and a 1959 Chrysler 300E convertible.

HISTORY & OVERVIEW

Rob Myers and partners started RM Sotheby’s Auctions in 1991, laying the groundwork for one of the world’s largest auction houses with investment-quality cars. Myers’ passion for collecting and restoring old autos began in childhood, inspired by his father’s own affinity for the same trade. In 2015, RM Auctions formed a strategic partnership with Sotheby’s, creating a company that can handle the sale of any car or collection.

To date, RM Sotheby’s has sold hundreds of million-dollar automobiles with an average 95% sales rate. A major player in private and estate collection sales, RM Sotheby’s markets and catalogues for diverse clients like Formula One Racing CEO Bernie Ecclestone and former Ford Motor Company Director Michael Dingman, among others. RM Sotheby’s rolled into Arizona in 2000, selling nearly $7 million worth of autos in just four hours! Sales have grown exponentially since the first auction was held in Arizona and numbers have soared in recent years.
