Scottsdale is calling . . . are you ready to answer?

What's New

Scottsdale has never been content to rest on its laurels, and the past year has seen several exciting new businesses come online. Here's a handful of the newest ways to stay, play, shop and dine in Scottsdale!

SHOP

SCOTTSDALE FASHION SQUARE

The Southwest's largest shopping destination continues to amp up the luxury experience with a variety of renovations and new offerings. Renovations to the Nordstrom wing include plush furnishings, a multi-lane valet and a dramatic new "meeting point," a backlit stone column set next to a soothing water feature. Fashion Square also welcomed several new in-demand retailers to its roster, including Blue Nile, Maje, Princess Polly, True Classic and Vuori. And to satisfy hungry shoppers, the highly anticipated restaurant Éléphante debuted in late 2024, featuring the spirit and cuisine of coastal southern Italy.

KIERLAND COMMONS

In North Scottsdale, Kierland Commons recently added four first-to-market retailers to its already impressive roster. Guests can now browse for stylish performance clothing for men at Mizzen+Main, get outfitted for their favorite sport at Wilson Sporting Goods, find a great night's sleep at Saatva Luxury Mattress and check out the latest electric vehicles at Rivian. And for those combining business with their Scottsdale stay, Industrious shared workspace offers on-demand booking for day passes and conference rooms.

SCOTTSDALE QUARTER

Open-air shopping at this North Scottsdale center reached new heights with the recent addition of retailers Ariat, Jenni Kayne, Williams Sonoma, Hammer Made and Pandora. Enjoy a sweet treat from the new Jeni's Splendid Ice Creams while you browse or stop by Sweet Paris Crêperie & Café for a taste of France in the form of sweet or savory crêpes, paninis, fresh salads and more.

STAY

THE SCOTTSDALE RESORT & SPA, CURIO COLLECTION RESORT BY HILTON

This central-Scottsdale resort recently completed a $40 million property-wide renovation that included refurbishing all guestrooms and public spaces, including Luna Spa. In addition, the resort debuted four new dining concepts: La Fogata, serving modern Sonoran cuisine with global influences; The Madam, a cozy, hidden speakeasy specializing in classic cocktails and elevated small bites; The Social Boardroom, an inviting space that includes board games and a golf simulator to enjoy alongside pub favorites like sliders and wings; and Barnaby's Café & Wine Bar, a grab-and-go-style coffee and lunch spot.

GRAND HYATT SCOTTSDALE RESORT

On the heels of a $115 million property-wide renovation, the Hyatt Regency Scottsdale Resort & Spa was unveiled in October 2024 as Arizona's first Grand Hyatt property. The resort's reimagined guestrooms and suites offer décor that celebrates the interplay of light, water and desert botanicals while offering breathtaking McDowell Mountain vistas. Other highlights include four new dining concepts spearheaded by chef Richard Blais, upgrades to the 10-acre destination pool complex and a refreshed Spa Avania, which specializes in wellness experiences choreographed to the science of time.

CAESARS REPUBLIC SCOTTSDALE, A HILTON HOTEL

This highly anticipated addition to Old Town Scottsdale's hotel roster debuted in 2024 adjacent to Scottsdale Fashion Square. Elegant accommodations are complemented by two restaurants by chef Giada De Laurentiis: Luna by Giada and Pronto by Giada. Both reflect the chef's Roman heritage and showcase her passion for traditional Italian cuisine with California and Mediterranean influences. One of the hotel's most notable amenities is the seventh-floor rooftop pool, which hosts activities such as yoga classes and champagne tastings.

DINE

UCHI SCOTTSDALE

Founded by award-winning chef Tyson Cole, Uchi, meaning “house” in Japanese, extends the intimacy of the sushi bar throughout the entire restaurant. The one-of-a-kind menu features non-traditional Japanese cuisine, signature tastings, sushi and a seasonal omakase. Look forward to delights like Wagyu Carpaccio with fried jalapeño, masu crudo (ocean trout, oat milk tom kha and Japanese sweet potato) and craft cocktails like the Shiso Mojito.

ONE HANDSOME BASTARD DISTILLERY & GRILL

One Handsome Bastard makes award-winning vodka and gin. Guests can taste five different flavors of vodka along with the distillery’s famous blood orange gin. The cocktail menu offers great combinations of house-made spirits along with bar favorites, beer and wine. Upscale bar food is offered, but the ½-pound burgers, made from ground chuck seasoned to perfection, take first prize.

BEGINNER'S LUCK

This new concept from local chef Bernie Katak dishes up elevated comfort food favorites in the heart of Old Town. The brunch, midday and dinner menus include delights like the Lucky 7 Cereal Bowl (chia pudding, blue corn grits, berries and coconut-pecan granola), Katak’s Original Chopped Salad, and the coffee-charred Steak Fritz – 12 ounces of prime certified angus NY strip with Hungarian – goat horn chile butter, pomme “fritz” and paprikash sour cream.

THE FRYBREAD LOUNGE

Sample authentic flavors of the Southwest at The Frybread Lounge, Old Town’s first and only Indigenous-owned restaurant. Chef Darryl Montana, a member of the Tohono O’odham Community, offers an elevated menu of appetizers and entrées inspired by local Indigenous communities. Specialties include classic frybread (both sweet and savory options), bison asada tacos, Three Sisters Salad and sweet treats like a caramel sunflower tart.

Discover more exciting dining options on pgs. 121-126.

PLAY

LANE PARK

Great food and exciting games converge at Lane Park in Old Town! Order up a craft cocktail and some savory bites like the Italian frybread tacos, street corn ribs or the Fryfecta (house-made fries seasoned three ways with sauce pairings), then try your hand at duckpin bowling, axe throwing, shuffleboard, Carrom or, in the cooler seasons, curling.

LOS MILICS VINEYARDS TASTING ROOM

There's even more to love along Old Town Scottsdale's Wine Trail with the opening of Los Milics Vineyards' chic new tasting room. This intimate wine bar offers Los Milics Vineyards' award-winning wine by the flight, glass or bottle, accompanied by tasty small bites. Los Milics specializes in Spanish, French and Italian varietals.

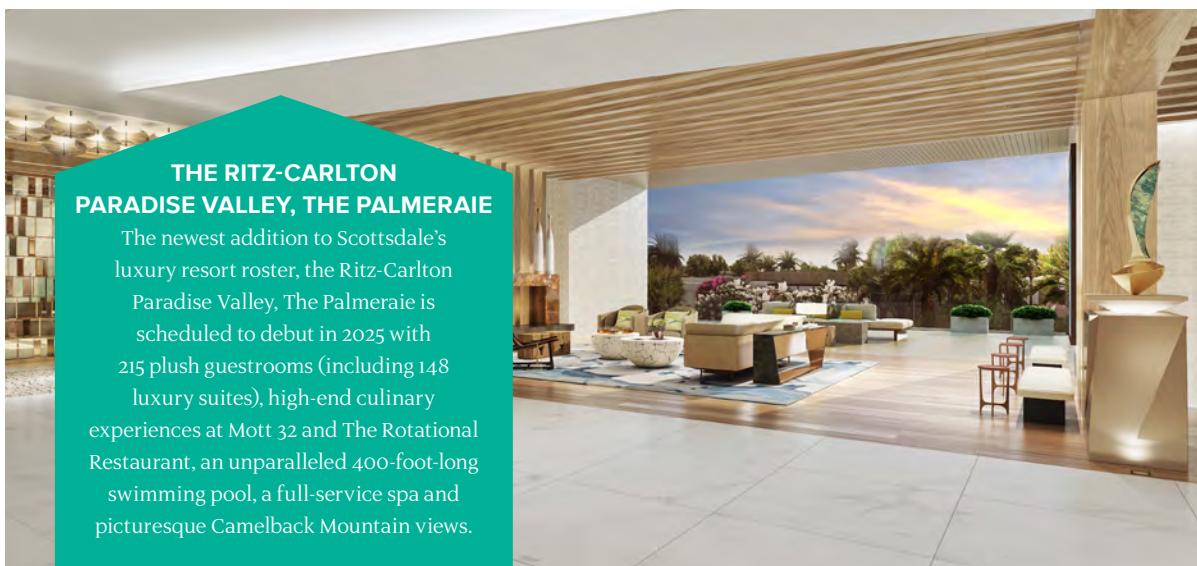

WALK N ABOUT SCOTTSDALE

Guests can now join former Scottsdale Mayor Sam Campana for a walking tour of historic Old Town! This 90-minute tour includes information on the area's history, Native American roots and its foundation as an arts community. As you meander the streets and visit museums, stores and galleries, you'll have plenty of opportunities to shop for the perfect memento of your Scottsdale trip.

WHAT'S NEXT

THE RITZ-CARLTON PARADISE VALLEY, THE PALMERAIE

The newest addition to Scottsdale's luxury resort roster, the Ritz-Carlton Paradise Valley, The Palmeraie is scheduled to debut in 2025 with 215 plush guestrooms (including 148 luxury suites), high-end culinary experiences at Mott 32 and The Rotational Restaurant, an unparalleled 400-foot-long swimming pool, a full-service spa and picturesque Camelback Mountain views.

Wake Up TO THE SUNSHINE

Scottsdale's lush Sonoran Desert setting and 330 days of annual sunshine make any day a great day for outdoor exploration and adventure. Whether you're looking for a laid-back guided excursion or something a little – or a lot – more thrilling, Scottsdale has you covered with these options for exploring our sun-drenched desert landscape.

FLY HIGH

In a landscape as panoramic as the Sonoran Desert, there's no better way to soak it all in than from the gondola of a hot air balloon. Drift along with the breeze as your pilot guides you high into the air for expansive scenic views or dips close to the ground for a glimpse of wildlife. Your flight concludes with a champagne toast amid the towering saguaros.

STROLL THE GARDEN

If you're looking for a more urban adventure, the Desert Botanical Garden offers five paved thematic trails and more than 50,000 desert plants to explore. You'll see everything from massive saguaro cacti and alluring succulents to colorful wildflowers and lacy shade trees. Plan to enjoy lunch or dinner at the Garden's on-site restaurant, Gertrude's.

GO OFF-ROAD

A Jeep or Hummer tour with an experienced guide is a great way to learn about the Sonoran Desert's fascinating history, geology and delicate ecosystem. Want to kick up the adventure quotient? Get behind the wheel of your own Tomcar, ATV or UTV for an exhilarating ride down rugged desert trails.

SADDLE UP

Unleash your inner cowpoke on a guided horseback ride. From your vantage point tall in the saddle, you'll enjoy stunning Sonoran Desert views as you ride through rolling mountain foothills and verdant desert washes. Beginning and experienced riders alike will enjoy this classic taste of the Old West.

MAKE A SPLASH

Lakes and rivers in a desert? Absolutely! In fact, an easy 60-minute drive from Old Town Scottsdale puts you within reach of eight beautiful lakes and rivers. Opt for a guided experience or rent your own equipment and enjoy river rafting, kayaking and SUPing. Boat rentals also are available at most lakeside marinas. As you float, keep your eyes on the shoreline, where you may spot javelina, deer, eagles and majestic wild horses.

things to bring

Must-haves for exploring the Sonoran Desert

1 SUNSCREEN: Sunscreen is a necessity no matter what time of year you visit!
2 WHISTLE: If you need assistance, the sound of a whistle carries farther than your voice. 3 WATER: Carry more than you think you'll need for everyone in your party, including pets. Bring at least 1 quart per person for short hikes and at least 1 gallon per person for longer hikes. 4 TRAIL MAP: Maps of Scottsdale's McDowell Sonoran Preserve can be downloaded at scottsdaleaz.gov/preserve. 5 CELL PHONE: A fully charged cell phone is the best item to have in the event of an emergency. 6 SNACKS: Refuel with snacks like nuts, dried fruit, jerky or energy bars. 7 COMB: A fine-tooth comb comes in handy for flicking away cholla cactus segments that can attach to shoes, skin or clothes if you brush against them.

HIT THE TRAIL

To fully immerse yourself in the natural beauty and tranquility of the Sonoran Desert, head for Scottsdale's McDowell Sonoran Preserve. Eight trailheads conveniently dotted around the city provide access to the Preserve's 230+ miles of shared-use trails, which range from hard-surfaced, graded interpretive paths designed to be accessible for all to challenging mountain summit climbs that will get your adrenaline pumping.

POPULAR SCOTTSDALE-AREA HIKES

When you're ready to hit the trail, these popular hikes are a great place to start. Each provides easy access to the Sonoran Desert from developed trailheads with designated parking, restrooms, shade ramadas and, of course, magnificent views.

CAMINO CAMPANA INTERPRETIVE TRAIL

Fraesfield Trailhead (13400 E. Rio Verde Dr., Scottsdale)

Length: 0.94 mi / 1.5 km (round trip) Rating: Easiest (ADA accessible)

One of the Preserve's newest trails, Camino Campana provides 13 museum-quality educational stops offering insights into how plants and wildlife interact and adapt to thrive in the desert.

GATEWAY-HORSESHOE LOOP

Gateway Trailhead (18333 N. Thompson Peak Pkwy., Scottsdale)

Length: 1.7 mi / 2.7 km (loop) Rating: Easy

Three trails link to create this easy hike on a relatively flat path that crosses a desert bajada with trees, saguaro and other cacti, and desert shrubs. A wide variety of desert birds can be seen along this hike, which also provides majestic mountain views.

LOST DOG – RINGTAIL TRAIL LOOP

Lost Dog Wash Trailhead (12601 N. 124th St., Scottsdale)

Length: 2.4 mi / 3.9 km (loop) Rating: Moderate

This two-trail hike is easy overall with a few moderate sections. Lost Dog Overlook has excellent views and is an ancient tool-making site. Spring wildflowers can be abundant along this trail from late February through April.

PINNACLE PEAK SUMMIT

Pinnacle Peak Park (26802 N. 102nd Way, Scottsdale)

Length: 3.5 mi / 5.6 km (round trip) Rating: Moderate

This wide, smooth trail switchbacks to the top of North Scottsdale's iconic Pinnacle Peak, where you'll be rewarded with stunning city and Sonoran Desert views. Though the path is well-graded with few obstacles, the elevation gain earns this hike its moderate rating.

TOM'S THUMB – EAST END LOOP

Tom's Thumb Trailhead (23015 N. 128th St., Scottsdale)

Length: 11.1 mi / 17.8 km Rating: Extremely Difficult

If you're a healthy, experienced hiker looking for a challenge, this trail is for you. In addition to its length, this trail provides rigorous challenges in the form of steep, loose sections and three major climbs (2,500-foot elevation gain overall). Your efforts will be rewarded with solitude, stunning vistas, and ample plant and wildlife sightings.

5 SURPRISES ON SCOTTSDALE TRAILS

BY ROGER NAYLOR / PHOTOS BY AN PHAM

When the McDowell Sonoran Preserve was established in 1995, the intent was to protect a beautiful swath of desert and enhance the quality of life for Scottsdale residents and visitors alike. Mission accomplished. Within the 30,500+ acres sheltered by the Preserve, you'll find incredible scenery, a network of trails and more than a few surprises.

Number One BALANCED ROCK

Balanced Rock, located near Granite Mountain, always comforts me. It has absolutely no business being upright, yet there it stands, a multi-ton, mushroom-shaped boulder, precariously perched on a foundation of bare stone. Completely exposed and alone in the desert, it serves as a reminder that seemingly impossible things exist. They're all around if we just seek them out. Access via Granite Mountain Trailhead (31402 N. 136th St., Scottsdale)

Number Two CATHEDRAL ROCK METATES

Making the loop through the desert scrub surrounding Cholla Mountain, I stop to enjoy the ancient air-conditioning of Cathedral Rock. Just off the western flank of the mountain, mighty boulders are stacked together in a distinctive formation and pocked with shady grottoes. In the largest room, metates are still visible, the shallow indentations in the bedrock where Native Americans would grind food such as mesquite pods. Access via Brown's Ranch Trailhead (30301 N. Alma School Pkwy., Scottsdale)

Number Three DOUBLE-CRESTED SAGUARO

The saguaro is the unquestioned king of the Sonoran Desert, towering over the landscape. Yet despite their royal status, few wear a crown. Those that do are called crested saguaros.

When the growing tip of a saguaro produces a fan-like shape instead of columnar arms, it's referred to as crested or cristate. Biologists aren't sure what causes the abnormal growth. The specimen standing at the junction of the Coyote Canyon and Desperado trails is one of the rarest. The main trunk forks, with both ends fanning out into a regal double crest. It's beautiful and eerily reminiscent of Princess Leia's twin-bun hairdo. Access: Since Coyote Canyon is deep in the Preserve, it can only be reached from connecting trails.

Number Four FACES OF COYOTE CANYON

The boulders give shape to narrow Coyote Canyon and also provide it with personality. This is a canyon full of whimsy. It's only a sliver of a defile, but erosional forces have added flavor, carving a variety of shapes and faces into the rough skin of the granite. I notice eyes peering at me, and world-weary grins. This, I decide, is where the Easter Island heads go to retire. Access: Since Coyote Canyon is deep in the Preserve, it can only be reached from connecting trails.

Number Five TALIESIN OVERLOOK

It's easy to lose yourself on Lost Dog Wash Trail. It slips immediately into the embrace of mountains, leaving all trace of the city behind. I ramble through desert flora, crossing washes and making a gentle climb. Just as I forget there's even a city nearby, I crest a ridge with a signed overlook. From this short path I savor views of not only the sprawling urban valley, but also Frank Lloyd Wright's Taliesin West, the famed architect's winter home and architectural laboratory. Access via Lost Dog Wash Trailhead (12601 N. 124th St., Scottsdale)

A slot machine reel is the central focus, showing three red '7' symbols and three 'BAR' symbols (each with a red apple icon). The reel is surrounded by bright orange and yellow flames. In the background, three playing cards (Ace of Spades, Ace of Hearts, and Ace of Clubs) are visible. The scene is set against a dark, smoky background with floating embers and a blurred roulette wheel in the lower right.

Sonoran Soothers

SONORAN DESERT- AND NATIVE
AMERICAN-INSPIRED SPA TREATMENTS

BY JILL SCHILDHOUSE

Spas that mix state-of-the-art technology with the newest scientifically created products are certainly appealing, but there's also a lot to be said for relying on more traditional practices — specifically, Sonoran Desert ingredients and Native American-inspired rituals — to reach a peak state of wellness. Read on to discover the truly special Scottsdale spas that harness the power of locally sourced elements, pay homage to the culture and customs of the region's Indigenous peoples, and bring a refreshing perspective to mind, body and spiritual wellness.

THE SPA AT TALKING STICK RESORT

True to the heritage and traditions of the Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community, on whose land it resides, this airy spa on Talking Stick Resort's 14th floor offers treatments inspired by products made with culturally significant ingredients – along with gorgeous panoramic views. The Salt River Body Scrub uses a coarse blend of salt, oil and indigenous botanicals to slough away dead skin cells, followed by an application of deeply hydrating jojoba lotion to leave your skin velvety smooth.

While you're at the Spa, treat your feet to a little pampering. The Prickly Pear pedicure includes a cactus fruit sugar scrub, while the Mesquite Bean pedicure gets your feet sandal-ready with a mesquite bean polish, paraffin treatment and extended massage. Top off either treatment with a beautiful pop of color on your toes!

THE SPA AT BOULDERS RESORT & SPA, CURIO COLLECTION BY HILTON

The Boulders Resort & Spa is a special property because the ancient peoples who originally inhabited this sacred land considered the surrounding granite rock formations to be spiritual — this is why spa-goers are encouraged to step outside and connect with the earth on their visit. The Spa pays homage to the region with wellness treatments inspired by Native American healing traditions and the seasonal harvest from the spa's expansive organic garden.

One particularly beloved service is the Tipi Cleansing Ritual. This soothing experience begins with a tranquil guided walk in the Spa's labyrinth. Next, guests enter the Tipi, set an intention and relax into the healing space of Mother Earth, emerging renewed and connected to their inner spirit. Or try the Sound Meditation, which employs music and sound to clear the mind and deepen meditation (a practice used by Native American shamans for centuries).

WELL & BEING AT FAIRMONT SCOTTSDALE PRINCESS

Well & Being's spa menu includes a bounty of options for body scrubs, massages and facials, but for blissful head-to-toe pampering, opt for the signature Havasupai Falls Rejuvenation. This two-hour treatment begins with a sage smudging to cleanse your energy. Next, a purifying scrub with essential oil-infused desert salts smooths your skin. After a rain shower rinse and a soak in the thermal mineral magnesium bath, you're ready for a massage with jojoba body butter that's sure to release any lingering tension. A Sedona clay mask facial, scalp massage and warm herbal wrap follow. An application of facial moisturizer regenerates your skin and locks in the glow.

THE SPA AT FOUR SEASONS RESORT SCOTTSDALE AT TROON NORTH

Cactus thrives at the Four Seasons Resort Scottsdale property, making its Nopal Massage an especially excellent choice. During the 90-minute treatment, your massage therapist applies warm prickly pear cactus (nopal) gel all over by using the smooth, fleshy insides of the cactus paddles directly on your skin. Refreshing and restorative, this gel is filled with healing antioxidants, minerals and vitamins.

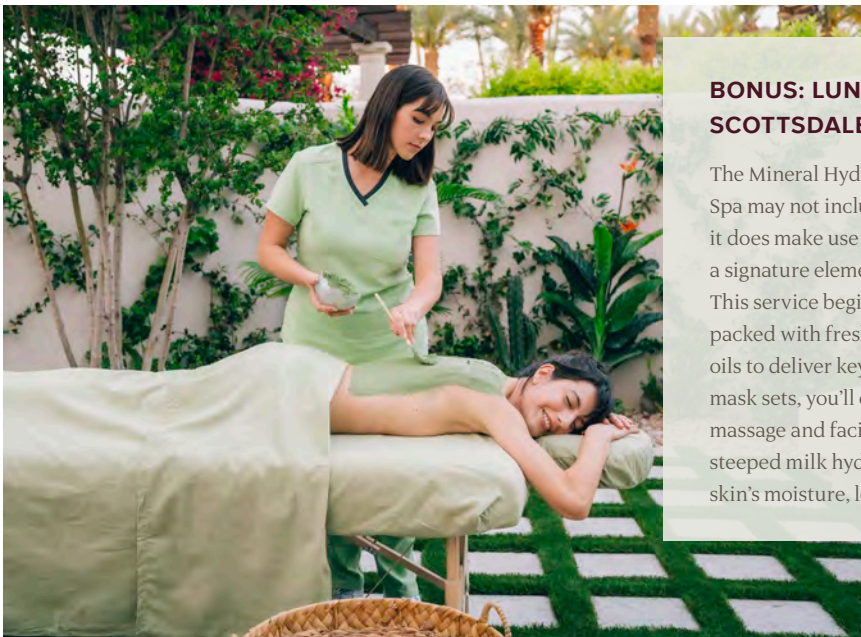

For a full sensory experience, Desert Bathing is part of the rotating calendar of weekly wellness programming at the resort. The ritual begins with intention-setting, along with a mindfulness and grounding exercise. Guests then embark on a meditative hike on a nearby Sonoran Desert trail and conclude at The Spa with cooling, aromatherapy-scented towels and a brief re-centering exercise.

CASTLE HOT SPRINGS

Set on more than 1,000 acres in the Sonoran Desert, Castle Hot Springs is a boutique resort famous for its clear, natural hot springs that produce over 200,000 gallons of mineral-rich water daily. The therapeutic water cascades into three pools of varying temperature, from 85° to 106°F. Soaking in the springs increases your levels of lithium, magnesium and bicarbonates to help lift your mood, calm your mind and ease muscle aches.

Treatments at the onsite spa draw inspiration from the land, including herbs and plants from the resort's farm. For instance, the Prickly Pear and Shea Butter Wrap uses a rich, natural body butter with Arizona prickly pear and pomegranate extracts blended with soothing shea butter, jojoba and aloe vera. This encourages skin regeneration and elasticity while combatting the effects of time and the dry desert air.

BONUS: LUNA SPA AT THE SCOTTSDALE RESORT & SPA

The Mineral Hydration Wrap & Facial at Luna Spa may not include desert botanicals per se, but it does make use of clean, organic products and a signature element of the Southwest: avocado! This service begins with a revitalizing body mask packed with fresh avocado butter, extracts and oils to deliver key fatty acids to the skin. As the mask sets, you'll enjoy a decompressing neck massage and facial refresher. After rinsing, a steeped milk hydration application locks in the skin's moisture, leaving it with a weightless glow.

History on Display

If you'd like to get a glimpse into Scottsdale's colorful past, this easy, self-guided stroll will introduce you to three historic Old Town landmarks and museums. The tour can be accomplished in about an hour and all admissions are free.

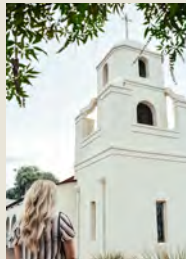

SCOTTSDALE HISTORICAL MUSEUM

Start your tour at the Little Red Schoolhouse near the western entrance to Scottsdale Civic Center, just east of Brown Ave.

The Little Red Schoolhouse was constructed in 1909 and over the years has served as a school, social hall and polling place, and housed the Scottsdale Chamber of Commerce prior to becoming the Scottsdale Historical Museum. The museum chronicles the city's history through photos, artifacts and changing displays.

As you leave the museum, turn left and proceed to Brown Ave. Turn left again and your next stop, the Old Adobe Mission, is one block ahead on your left.

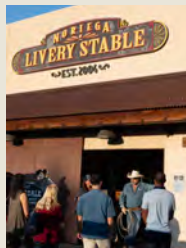

OLD ADOBE MISSION

Scottsdale's first Catholic church was constructed of handmade adobe bricks in 1933 and features beautiful Spanish Colonial Revival architecture and handcrafted stained-glass windows. Highlights inside include the Sacristy mosaic, historical photos and a statue of Our Lady of Guadalupe.

After touring the Mission, cross Brown Ave. and turn left.

The Parada del Sol Rodeo Museum is just ahead on your right.

OLD TOWN SCOTTSDALE PARADA DEL SOL RODEO MUSEUM

Explore Scottsdale's rich rodeo history through artifacts like ropes, saddles, historical photos and original event posters. The museum, which is housed in the historic Noriega Livery building, also includes "The Stable," a large-scale mural by Joel Coplin that depicts horses being fed in their stalls.

Western Chic

BY DENA ROCHÉ

Scottsdale's history is rooted in the Wild, Wild West. While today the city might be more Lil Wayne than John Wayne, you can still unleash your inner cowgirl (or cowboy!) throughout town.

GEAR UP

The first step to embracing your internal Annie Oakley or Jesse James is looking the part. In Old Town Scottsdale, Mavericks is your one-stop shop for all things upscale Western, from country-cute dresses to classic men's leather vests and everything in between – all from top-name brands like Tasha Polizzi, Kimes Ranch, Robert Graham and Old Gringo. At Rancher Hat Bar, belly up to the bar to design your perfect custom cowboy hat. Start by choosing your hat's style and color from a rainbow of options, then browse accessories like bands, ribbons, charms and feathers. You can even have your creation branded! And no matter your outfit, it won't be complete without jewelry and accessories from Native Art Market, an Indigenous-owned marketplace featuring turquoise and silver jewelry, clothing and home décor items by more than 400 Native artisans.

MAVERICKS

RANCHER HAT BAR

If you're staying in North Scottsdale, mosey on over to Kierland Commons to stock up on your Western gear. The heart of any Western wardrobe is the perfect pair of jeans, and that's just what locally owned Kimes Ranch creates. Their men's and women's denim pieces are fashionable enough for a night on the town and sturdy enough to weather a day in the saddle. At Tecovas, your personal bootender will help you find the perfect leather cowboy boots or hat while serving you your favorite libation to sip as you shop. And whatever you choose, it can be branded with your monogram to truly make it yours. For a look that goes from the runway to the rodeo, point your toes to Freebird for a selection of the most fashionable Western boots available.

KIERLAND COMMONS

GIDDY UP

Once you're decked out, it's time to put your digs to the test at MacDonald's Ranch. For over 50 years, this family-owned ranch has offered Scottsdale visitors an authentic Western experience. Book a group or private horseback ride on trails through the beautiful Sonoran Desert, and in the winter or spring, end the ride with a Cowboy Cookout. Insider tip: If you're bringing your sweetie along on the ride, opt for one of the ranch's romantic moonlight rides. Offered only a few nights each month, these rides let you experience the desert in a luminescent lunar glow.

MACDONALD'S RANCH

KICK IT UP

If you're ready to kick up those new cowboy boots, y'all must check out the Rusty Spur Saloon in Old Town Scottsdale. It was the first bar in the city and is a registered historical landmark. Once inside the swinging doors, order a cold one and wander through the bar checking out the walls boasting pictures, letters, dollar bills and license plates from its famous and not-so-famous past guests. With live music every day and night, lasso up your partner or gal pals and show off your twirls and two-steppin' skills. Make sure to keep your eyes peeled because country legends like Dierks Bentley and Blake Shelton have been known to grace the saloon.

RUSTY SPUR SALOON

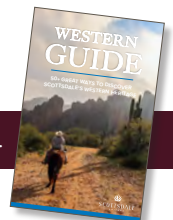

Speaking of Dierks Bentley, if you're looking for a Western club with a rock-and-roll edge, head for the Old Town

Entertainment District. In addition to live music and dancing, Dierks Bentley's Whiskey Row serves up award-winning American gastropub cuisine and top-of-the-line drinks, ranging from handcrafted cocktails to wine, craft beer, champagne and, of course, whiskey.

HANDLEBAR J

Handlebar J debuted in the 1960s as Wild Bill's, North Scottsdale's original honky-tonk, and welcomed performers like Waylon Jennings. Since being purchased by the Herndon family and christened Handlebar J in 1975, this family-owned institution has become known for its lip-smacking BBQ and live music courtesy of local musicians and the Herndon Brothers band.

The Merchantile of Scottsdale

The Merchantile of Scottsdale is more than just a boutique marketplace—it's the realization of Kimberly Pak's bold dream. After moving from California, Kimberly noticed a need for a small, local business community in Old Town Scottsdale. As a former vendor herself, she understood the challenges local makers faced. With a background as a jewelry maker, boutique-on-wheels owner, and handbag designer, Kimberly set out to fill that gap. In 2019, she brought her vision to life, creating The Merchantile, a vibrant hub where local vendors could showcase their products and thrive. She didn't just see the need—she built it.

Step inside one of The Merchantile's three bustling locations—two in Old Town Scottsdale, just half a mile apart, and one in Phoenix—and you'll discover a treasure trove of local talent. The Old Town Scottsdale stores, located on Brown & 1st Ave and the newest on 5th Ave, offer a curated collection of products from local vendors. From jewelry, candles, and clothing to unique art pieces and handmade goods, The Merchantile brings the best of Scottsdale's small business community under one roof.

In addition to showcasing local talent, The Merchantile offers unique experiences that go beyond shopping. On special days, you can get permanent jewelry, tattoos, or piercings right in the store! If you're looking for something less permanent, they also host hands-on workshops like candle making, jewelry design, painting, and more. To stay updated on upcoming events and pop-ups, be sure to check out their website for all the latest details.

DREAMS GATHER HERE

If you're lucky, you might stumble upon one of The Merchantile's outdoor markets, where over 150 vendors gather in Old Town Scottsdale. These lively events feature booths brimming with local goods, food trucks, live music, beer and wine, and countless family-friendly activities. To catch one of their upcoming markets, follow them on Instagram at @merchantilemarket or visit their website at www.merchantilemarket.com. For more updates on their stores, check out their Instagram at @themerchantile and their website at www.themerchantileofscottsdale.com.

DISCOVER INSPIRATION IN THE ARTISTRY

Scottsdale has long been a gathering spot for creatives, each inspired in their own way by the desert's remarkable clarity of light, intricate textures and rugged natural landscape. Today, the city celebrates imagination in all its forms, from architectural wonders and world-class galleries and museums to a renowned public art program that adorns buildings, street corners and freeways with artistic masterpieces.

OLD TOWN'S ARTISTIC HUB

There's no better place to begin your exploration of Scottsdale's art scene than in the Old Town Arts District. Centered around the intersection of Main Street and Marshall Way, where Ed Mell's majestic "Jack Knife" anchors the roundabout, this pedestrian-friendly district is home to dozens of welcoming galleries showcasing art in all styles and mediums.

The Arts District also is home to the legendary Scottsdale ArtWalk, a local tradition since 1975. This free, go-at-your-own-pace event takes place most Thursday evenings from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. and features exhibition openings, artist demonstrations and live entertainment at the district's fine art galleries.

EARTHEN FORMS

A visit to Cosanti Originals is an exploration of both innovative architecture and the natural elements of earth, fire and air. Built by the late Italian-born architect Paolo Soleri as his home and architectural studio, Cosanti's earth-formed concrete domes offer a cool, shady respite from the desert sun. They also provide an enchanting backdrop for Soleri's iconic windbells, cast in whimsical forms from molten bronze and then cooled to play melodious tunes with every passing desert breeze.

WHERE DESERT MEETS DESIGN

Desert and design blend in perfect harmony at Taliesin West, the late Frank Lloyd Wright's winter home and architectural laboratory. Crafted by Wright and his apprentices with rocks from the desert floor and sand from nearby washes, this UNESCO World Heritage Site illustrates Wright's ingenious ability to blend indoor and outdoor spaces so that each building fits seamlessly into its beautiful desert frame.

CITY OF ART

A stroll through Old Town will surprise and delight you with murals, mosaics, monumental bronzes and other works of art at every turn. All are part of Scottsdale's renowned Public Art Program, which boasts more than 100 artworks citywide, including freeway murals, fanciful bus stops and soothing water features.

MUSEUM MAGIC

Tailor made for leisurely afternoons, Scottsdale's museums offer unique insights into the past, present and future. History and art combine to tell a compelling story at Western Spirit: Scottsdale's Museum of the West. This Smithsonian Affiliate honors the people and places whose indomitable spirit forged the American West. Nearby, the Scottsdale Museum of Contemporary Art celebrates the cutting-edge art, architecture and design of our time, while Wonderspaces Arizona immerses guests in interactive exhibitions that stretch the imagination. Both historical and contemporary Native American art and culture are celebrated at the Heard Museum. And at the Musical Instrument Museum, treat your senses to the magic of harmonious sounds from around the world.

IN THE SPOTLIGHT

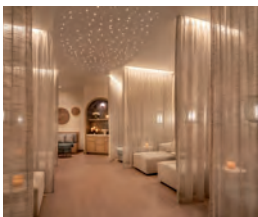

The performing arts take the spotlight at a variety of venues around Scottsdale. In Old Town, enjoy a music, dance, comedy or theatrical production at the Scottsdale Center for the Performing Arts or catch the latest adaptation of your favorite play at Scottsdale Desert Stages Theatre or Greasepaint Youthcenter. Nearby, the best of Broadway comes to life at ASU Gammage, a historic venue designed by Frank Lloyd Wright.

Find Your Swing

BY TOM MACKIN

With 50 courses in Scottsdale proper and another 150 in the nearby area, it's no wonder Scottsdale is known as The World's Finest Golf Destination. Add in year-round sunny skies, an impressive portfolio of luxury resorts, and outstanding dining and nightlife options, and you have all the makings of a stellar golf getaway. Whether you're new to the sport, a single-digit handicapper or somewhere in between, you'll find the round of a lifetime on these Scottsdale courses.

BEST OPTIONS FOR BEGINNERS

Learning any sport can be humbling, frustrating and haltingly enjoyable. And then there's golf, where you can experience all of those emotions on your first hole! If you're new to the game, these four golf courses provide an enjoyable experience with just the right amount of challenge to keep things interesting.

1: KIERLAND GOLF CLUB

Always in stellar condition, the 27 holes on the Westin Kierland Resort & Spa property were designed by Scott Miller, who graciously lined numerous fairways with mounding that helps direct shots back into play (helping veteran golfers, too). Entrances to most greens are accessible and forced carries are few.

2: TALKING STICK GOLF CLUB

While both the O'odham and Piipaash courses at this venue (located right behind Talking Stick Resort) are fairly straightforward designs by famed architects Bill Coore and Ben Crenshaw, it's the latter layout that may be better suited for those still learning the game. The greens aren't quite as crowned, and fewer angles come into play on the fairways.

3: PAPAGO GOLF COURSE

This beloved municipal course just west of Scottsdale has been welcoming golfers of all skill levels since 1963. The tree-lined fairways are pretty wide, water is only in play on two holes (the 1st and 11th) and you get some memorable views of the Papago Buttes looming right next to the course. Beginners are even invited to tour the facility and learn where everything is before stepping out onto the course!

4: TPC SCOTTSDALE CHAMPIONS COURSE

Its much higher-profile sibling, the TPC Stadium Course (home of the PGA Tour's WM Phoenix Open), is located right across the street, but the Champions is highly regarded by locals. And it's not just because the green fee is significantly lower; it's a fun, walkable layout with large greens, making it an easy golf course for beginners. The pace of play on the Champions Course also tends to be a bit better.

TOP PICKS FOR EXPERIENCED GOLFERS

So, you're ready for a challenge? Well then, the greater Scottsdale area is more than ready for you with its extensive menu of challenging layouts. Each requires your full concentration, strong shot-making skills, and perhaps a lucky bounce or two along the way to come in under par. Here are five courses that will quickly reveal just how good your game is.

1: TROON NORTH GOLF CLUB

The place that set the standard for upscale daily-fee golf when it debuted in 1990 retains its role as one of the best 36-hole facilities in the country. Both the Monument and Pinnacle courses are formidable, but the Monument recently underwent a renovation that included all new greens and new bunker sand.

2: GRAYHAWK GOLF CLUB

The Tom Fazio-designed Raptor Course hosted a PGA Tour event back in the late 2000s and it's still tough enough that breaking par from the tips is quite an accomplishment. Massive bunkers guard the large greens, where three-putts are not uncommon, and the closing par-5 remains one of the Valley's best.

3: WE-KO-PA GOLF CLUB

Bill Coore and Ben Crenshaw give you plenty of room off the tee on the Saguaro Course at We-Ko-Pa, but pick the wrong side of the massive fairways and you're in for a serious challenge to get your approach shots close to the hole, especially on elevated greens at the 8th, 14th and 16th holes.

4: TPC SCOTTSDALE STADIUM COURSE

Everybody wants to play where the pros play, and the world's best have been visiting the TPC Scottsdale's Stadium Course annually for the WM Phoenix Open since it opened in 1987. Normally the rough isn't quite as thick and the greens aren't quite as fast as during tournament week, but at just over 7,200 yards from the tips, the Stadium Course will give you all you can handle.

5: AK-CHIN SOUTHERN DUNES GOLF CLUB

Located just south of Scottsdale in nearby Maricopa, Ak-Chin Southern Dunes is just about as good as it gets. Plenty of length (7,546 yards from the tips), well-positioned bunkers and subtle yet tricky greens are all part of the challenge. Reward yourself for a good round with one of the clubhouse's killer milkshakes.

INDULGE IN SCOTTSDALE'S UNIQUE FLAVORS

BY CHRISTINA BARRUETA

New on the Dining Scene

Scottsdale's dining scene is hotter than ever, with an array of exciting new restaurants debuting in the past year. From a local legend debuting a fresh concept to acclaimed chefs from across the country setting up shop, these five new hotspots showcase the diverse flavors that make Scottsdale a true foodie destination.

LA FOGATA KITCHEN & BAR

La Fogata Kitchen & Bar has arrived as part of The Scottsdale Resort & Spa's $40 million makeover. The dining room, anchored by a wood-fired grill, and the patio overlooking the lush McCormick Ranch Golf Club greens set the stage for a menu melding modern Sonoran cuisine with global influences. Dive into standouts like meatballs bathed in mole and served with hand-pressed tortillas, scallops and grilled street corn topped with chimichurri and drizzled with cauliflower bisque, or Meat and Potatoes, an unassuming name for a dish that's a total indulgence, featuring gnocchi, braised oxtail, mushrooms and black truffle cheese.

UCHI SCOTTSDALE

Uchi, the first Arizona outpost from James Beard Award-winning chef Tyson Cole's renowned Austin-based restaurant group, has opened in Old Town, and it's every bit as spectacular as you'd expect. Let the expert staff guide you through the menu or go all-in with a multicourse omakase for a surprise adventure. Uchi's greatest hits include hama chili (yellowtail with Thai chile and orange supreme), sake tom kha (salmon with coconut and lime leaf) and kinoko nigiri (brown butter-basted mushrooms), but also look out for daily specials like Wagyu striploin with maitake mushrooms and Hollandaise. And be sure to save room for dessert – they're just as stunning.

LUNA BY GIADA

Luna by Giada has landed at the luxe Caesars Republic Scottsdale, and it's as chic as you'd expect from celebrity chef Giada De Laurentiis. Luna offers coastal Italian fare, pizzas and pastas in a sophisticated setting with her personal touches; for example, the LED pattern on the ceiling represents the positions of the constellations on the night her daughter was born. Standouts include Sicilian focaccia, carpaccio with bresaola (an Italian cured, air-dried beef) and her signature lemon spaghetti with mascarpone cheese. But you also don't want to miss the lemon pizza with garlic crème or pork and veal agnolotti in a parmesan broth, two exclusive dishes created by De Laurentiis for Scottsdale.

BEGINNER'S LUCK

Iconic Valley chef Bernie Katak's latest addition to his restaurant group features a winning hand of family recipes and favorites from his other spots, including his famous Stetson Chopped Salad. Start your morning with shakshuka (baked eggs in a rich tomato sauce with local Noble Bread for dipping) or My Rich Uncle's French Toast with coconut-pecan streusel and butterscotch syrup. Or enjoy lunch and dinner savoring the Lucky Burger gilded with Grandma Francis' chili sauce or the 12-hour pork bowl, a delicious mélange of slow-roasted pork, blue corn grits, avocado, chicharrónes, queso fresco and more, which earned a double gold at the Devour food festival.

TELL YOUR FRIENDS

TheAmericano, already one of Scottsdale's hottest dining destinations, has upped the ante with an underground secret. Enter through a mirrored panel in a hallway and you'll descend the stairs to find Tell Your Friends, a swanky supper club where live music sets the mood and guests are dressed to impress. In addition to a stellar beverage program, you'll find a mouthwatering menu with specialties such as fire-roasted oysters topped with spinach and Chinese sausage, kimchi honey-glazed Korean fried chicken with smoked bacon ranch (and optional caviar!), and a splurge-worthy Steak Foie Poivre for two showcasing a 16-oz. New York strip steak draped in a decadent green peppercorn and foie gras sauce.

Longtime Local Favorites

In addition to stellar new eateries, Scottsdale is home to many long-established local favorites. Here are six Scottsdale restaurants beloved by residents and visitors alike.

FNB

James Beard Award-winning chef Charleen Badman and front-of-the-house phenom Pavle Milic are the dynamic duo behind this Old Town gem. Badman's veggie-forward menu, crafted from locally sourced organic ingredients, changes regularly and also includes artisan meats and seafood, locally made pasta and decadent desserts. Pair your meal with a selection from Milic's hand-curated wine list, which includes a variety of Arizona wines including varietals from his own label, Los Milics. One visit and you'll see why FNB is a favorite restaurant among the locals.

SUGAR BOWL

No trip to Old Town Scottsdale is complete without a stop at the Sugar Bowl Ice Cream Parlor & Restaurant. Established in 1958, the Sugar Bowl is a trip down memory lane with its pink décor and bustling soda fountain. Bring the whole family and enjoy classic diner eats and the best ice cream sundaes in town, including the Dusty Road Sundae and the Gosh-Awful-Gooley Banana Split. Original drawings from Family Circus cartoon creator and Sugar Bowl fan Bil Keane hang on the walls.

EL CHORRO

In 1937, Jan and Mark Gruber transformed the buildings of a former girls' school into what is today El Chorro. Although the restaurant has changed hands and grown over the years, El Chorro retains its rustic elegance and reputation for outstanding cuisine. Positioned between Mummy and Camelback mountains, El Chorro specializes in classic fare from filet mignon to trout almondine but is most famous for its sugary sticky buns and breathtaking sunset views, which are best enjoyed from the spacious patio.

THE THUMB

At first glance, The Thumb appears to be a gas station. That's because, well, it is – but trust us on this one, you won't want to miss it. A North Scottsdale landmark for more than 12 years, The Thumb has been featured on Guy Fieri's popular "Diners, Drive-ins & Dives" for its robust menu of mouthwatering barbecue, including pulled pork, smoked sausage and the house specialty, St. Louis-style ribs. From breakfast options like Tom's Brisket Stack (hashbrown cakes, sliced brisket and over-easy eggs) to hearty two- or three-meat platters for lunch and dinner, you can't go wrong when you fill up at The Thumb.

THE MISSION

Chef and restaurateur Matt Carter has a serious taco habit – and we're glad he does. What began as a fondness for authentic Mexican street food evolved first into epic backyard pig roasts for Carter's friends and family, then eventually into his concept for The Mission, which boasts two Scottsdale locations at Old Town and Kierland Commons. Start with the 12-ingredient guacamole, then peruse Carter's robust menu of modern Latin cuisine that includes delights like spicy grilled street corn and Pork Shoulder Tacos with pineapple-habanero glaze.

AZ88

Tucked away in the heart of the Scottsdale Civic Center, this upscale gastropub is known for its changing art displays and sleek design. By day, floor-to-ceiling windows and a sun-drenched patio provide gorgeous views of the Civic Center's lush gardens and public art installations. By night, AZ88 transforms into a hip, artsy hangout known for its filled-to-the-brim martinis. AZ88 offers an eclectic menu of gourmet burgers and sandwiches, savory chicken wings and farm-fresh salads. Don't miss the Hell's Fire Chips, homemade potato chips topped with crumbled bleu cheese and AZ Gunslinger hot sauce.

SCOTTSDALE'S

Wine Trail

BY JENELLE BONIFIELD

Arizona produces wine? Indeed we do, and very impressive wine at that. You no longer need to travel to California and beyond for award-winning vintages. In fact, you can sip wine from all three of Arizona's wine-growing regions right in Old Town Scottsdale. Enjoy a wine flight, a glass or a bottle. Join me as I introduce you to the Arizona tasting rooms along the Old Town Scottsdale Wine Trail.

LDV WINERY

Starting at LDV Winery on Old Town's Stetson Drive, you'll find ample seating indoors or on the shaded patio. This contemporary space welcomes individuals and groups in the airy tasting room where images from the winery's breathtaking Southern Arizona vineyard adorn the walls.

Founded in 2008, LDV Winery's vineyard is located in Pearce, Arizona, at the base of the Chiricahua Mountains. Showcasing their founders' commitment to sustainable and organic vineyard practices, LDV's wines embody the unique characteristics of the Arizona terroir. LDV Winery specializes in bold, estate-grown Rhône varieties like Viognier, Grenache, Syrah and Petite Sirah.

Charcuterie boards are available to complement your choice of a three- or four-wine tasting experience. LDV's Scottsdale tasting room hosts a variety of gatherings and special events, including their signature "Le Nez du Vin," a sensory experience of all things wine available by advance reservation only.

Be Sure to Try:

*2017 Rhyolite Petite Sirah

SALVATORE VINEYARDS

Just down the street, across from Scottsdale's famous Bronze Horse Fountain, you'll find Salvatore Vineyards, named after the grandfather of their winemaker, Jason Domanico. This is a cozy venue with crystal chandeliers that add a lovely touch to the art-filled tasting room, making it perfect for a date night.

Italian varietals are the specialty at Salvatore Vineyards, and all are meticulously made in small batches using the best grapes and barrels possible. Salvatore Vineyards, along with Passion Cellars and Cabal Cellars, create a triad of labels for this winery that boasts additional tasting rooms in Bisbee, Elgin, Jerome and Tombstone.

Be Sure to Try:

ARIZONA STRONGHOLD VINEYARDS

Next up as we walk south on Marshall Way is Arizona Stronghold Vineyards, founded in 2007. A large photo mural on one wall transports you to their Willcox vineyard, while wine production images on the opposite wall provide behind-the-scenes insights into the wine-making process. Patio and indoor seating are available for individuals, groups and even corporate events.

Arizona Stronghold Vineyards' wines are the expression of the fierce and wild Arizona terroir. The brand is noted for its focus on Rhône and Italian varietals such as Syrah, Grenache, Cabernet Sauvignon, Malvasia Bianca and Viognier, as well as blends. Their award-winning wines, creative food menu and comfortable surroundings provide the perfect ambience for an afternoon or evening of relaxed socializing.

Be Sure to Try:

2020 DIYA
White blend of Viognier, Vermentino and Malvasia Bianca Blend

LOS MILICS VINEYARDS

A block south on Marshall Way is the newest tasting room on the Wine Trail, Los Milics Vineyards. Sleek and sophisticated, Los Milics invites you to cozy up to the bar or tables and enjoy a flight, glass or bottle of their small-production wines. You'll soon discover why Los Milics wines are nationally recognized.

Founded in 2018, the winery and vineyard are located in Elgin and are complemented by a state-of-the-art tasting room with a restaurant and casitas. Los Milics was voted one of the top three new winery experiences in the U.S. in 2023 by USA Today and voted No. 2 in the 10 Best Readers' Choice Awards in 2024, again by USA Today.

Los Milics specializes primarily in Spanish, French and Italian varietals. After tasting their wine, you may opt for a visit to their Elgin location; but for now, let's stay on the Wine Trail.

Be Sure to Try:

2023 Norita's
Termed "orange wine" for the color created by the grape's skin contact. Blend of 37% Malvasia Bianca, 37% Marsanne, 24% Petit Verdot, 2% Vermentino

CARLSON CREEK VINEYARDS

Just across the street from Los Milics, you will find Carlson Creek's light and airy tasting room. It brings in a touch of the winery with the stave wall décor, copper bar and barrels. Winery and vineyard photos are displayed throughout, along with rotating fine art exhibits. There's a small semi-private nook for quiet conversations as well as a private room for events.

Currently one of the largest vineyards and wineries in the state, this gem was founded by the Carlson family in 2008 in the high desert of the Willcox Bench. In addition to the 13 varietals rotating on the menu, custom cheese boards are available. Carlson Creek specializes in wines produced from French, Italian and Spanish varietals.

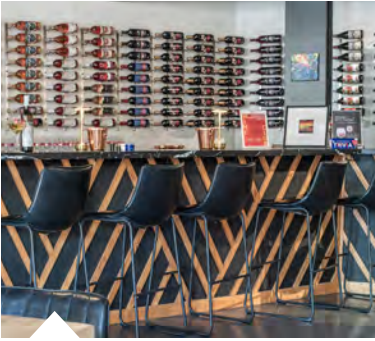

Be Sure to Try:

2021 Rule of Three | 40% Syrah, 35% Malbec, 25% Grenache

THE WINE COLLECTIVE SCOTTSDALE

Continuing south on Marshall Way to East First Avenue is The Wine Collective Scottsdale, a boutique tasting room and bottle shop representing more than 30 Arizona wineries. The space is contemporary, open and comfortable. A mural of a vineyard in the Verde Valley adds to the ambience.

Offering curated tasting flights and a wide selection of wines by the glass or bottle, this wine venue is a great place to relax and learn about local Arizona wineries. Their friendly staff welcomes your questions, and they're sure to have the answers! The guided tasting flights pair nicely with small bites, making it the perfect spot for a weekday happy hour. The covered patio is pet-friendly.

The Wine Collective offers a number of special events such as Meet The Wine-maker, Complimentary Tastings and the Sensory Wine Tasting Experience.

Be Sure to Try:

Strive 2022 Mélange Blanc

ARIDUS WINE COMPANY

One block south on East Main Street, Aridus Wine Company marks the end of the Wine Trail. The tasting room's rustic but sophisticated interior is made with natural and reclaimed materials, juxtaposed with lovely chandeliers. With ample room for groups in the main room, there's also a private tasting room for events.

Aridus Wine Company's Pearce, Arizona, vineyard was purchased in 2009 at the base of the Chiricahua Mountains. The Willcox winery opened in 2012. They specialize in crafting premium wines from the unique terroirs of the region from single varietal and blends made from Spanish, French and Italian grapes. The name Aridus is a play on the word "arid," since we are, after all, in Arizona.

To make your wine-tasting experience complete, light fare and charcuterie boards are available.

5 BASIC STEPS OF WINE TASTING

SEE

You can tell a lot about a wine simply by its appearance. Typically, the darker the color, the more full-bodied the wine.

SWIRL

A swirl aerates the wine and releases the aromatic components that make up the complexity of its flavor.

SMELL

The wine's aroma (fruit, herb, flower aromas) and bouquet (spice, yeast, nut aromas) provide the first hint of its flavor profile.

SIP & SWISH

Let the wine dance over your taste buds to release its complex flavors so that all your senses can take them in.

SAVOR

Enjoy the wine's finish – the last flavors that linger on your palate after you swallow.

HOT TIP

Los Milics' Elgin vineyard and tasting room in southern Arizona is known for its striking architecture.

SECRET

SCOTTSDALE SPEAKEASIES

From swanky subterranean spots to luxe lounges, you won't want to keep these Scottsdale speakeasies a secret.

BY LAUREN TOPOR

During the Prohibition years, America went dry. The consumption of alcohol – including the production, sale and transportation of it – was illegal. But the party didn't stop. Instead, secret speakeasies and clandestine jazz clubs popped up in inconspicuous places. Revelers turned to these hooch hideaways in droves, ultimately turning drinking into a wild and rebellious act – and, consequently, a booming black market for booze.

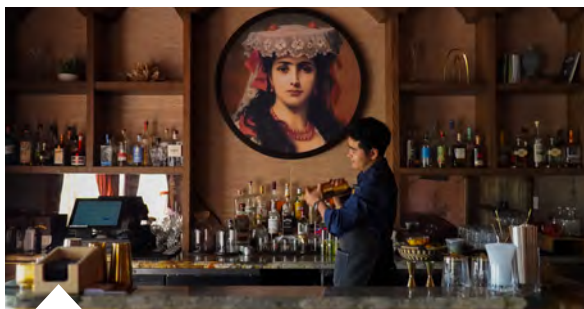

By 1933, Prohibition was repealed, and getting together for drinks was legal again. Today, if you know where to look, you can find the same spirit of the Prohibition Era in Scottsdale, with just the right amount of speakeasy secrecy. Hidden entrances, craft cocktails, a hint of mystery – it's all here.

something for you to find out. Inside, The Madam is dressed up in shades of maroon, and amber candle vessels set the sultry scene. Elevated craft cocktails like the Devil's Gambit, garnished with dragon fruit, is an exotic indulgence exclusive to this Scottsdale speakeasy – and one you won't experience anywhere else.

TELL YOUR FRIENDS

Tell Your Friends is what Jay Gatsby's place might look like in this century: handsomely moody and decorated with gilded accents, oversized spinning disco balls, pops of neon lights, crimson velvet curtains. But this isn't West Egg, it's North Scottsdale. Hiding beneath The Americano restaurant, this sexy Scottsdale speakeasy is accessible via two flights of stairs and an online reservation. Live jazz tunes set the scene for signature cocktails, like the vodka-and-champagne-splashed Flapper Fizz or the peppery, pungent zero-proof Smooth Operator – best enjoyed between bites of fire-roasted East Coast oysters and decadent Italian-inspired desserts. For groups, go for the Punch Bowl, a gin-kissed, floral-forward boozy party punch of epic proportions designed to serve four to six people – it's the next best thing to a Gatsby party.

THE MADAM

Access to this Scottsdale speakeasy is disguised within The Scottsdale Resort & Spa's Social Boardroom, a casual bar and game room with a basementy-vibe complete with its own pool table and golf simulator. A decorative bookshelf doubles as a door to this elusive hush-hush space. But which one? That's

STRAIGHT UP

Straight Up is Scottsdale's undercover whiskey lounge at Hotel Adeline. The concealed cocktail bar has an easygoing atmosphere, indoor and outdoor accommodations suitable for both couples and small parties, and a menu of petite plates, ranging from blistered shishito peppers to glazed pork belly, that complements its libation lineup. Here, whiskey flights range from tasty tours of regions to customizable samplings - there's a flight for every type of whiskey aficionado at this Scottsdale speakeasy. Ask your bartender for a local spirit and you'll likely receive a dram of Whiskey Del Bac's award-winning American single malt: a mesquite-wood-smoked tippie with a flavor profile that can only be described as distinctly Arizona. In true speakeasy fashion, Straight Up is only accessible by way of a hidden entrance: an old-fashioned telephone booth.

Old Town After Dark

When the sun goes down, every hour is happy hour in Old Town Scottsdale. More than 100 nightlife options – from sophisticated restaurants and wine bars to über-chic dance clubs – can be found nestled in Old Town’s walkable neighborhoods. Here are some local favorites grouped by weekend closing times (weekday closing hours may be earlier).

Road Trip

8 GREAT ARIZONA EXCURSIONS FROM SCOTTSDALE

MONUMENT VALLEY NAVAJO TRIBAL PARK

You'll find a bounty of natural wonders, quirky towns and historic landmarks throughout Arizona – most of which you can explore on an easy day or overnight trip from Scottsdale. Let's hit the road!

ROUTE 66

Drive Time: Varies by route

We couldn't start an article about road trips without mentioning America's Mother Road, Route 66. A 158-mile swath of this legendary track spans northwestern Arizona and is studded with colorful Americana. Get your kicks with the burros in Oatman. Swing into the Sno-Cap Drive-in for a burger, fries, Oreo milkshake and punny jokes from the servers. Grab a selfie standin' on the corner in Winslow, Arizona (yes, just like the song). Route 66 celebrates its centennial in 2026, so make plans now to join the fun!

TOMBSTONE

Drive Time (each way): 3 hrs., 10 min.

Tombstone, "The Town Too Tough to Die," is home to the infamous O.K. Corral, where daily reenactments of the gunfight between the Earp brothers and the Clantons and McLaurys thrill visitors. Other Tombstone highlights include the Bird Cage Theatre, Boothill Graveyard and the Rose Tree Inn Museum.

discovertombstone.com

MONUMENT VALLEY NAVAJO TRIBAL PARK

Drive Time (each way): 5 hrs., 20 min.

Monument Valley's colorful sandstone buttes can be explored on guided tours or a 17-mile self-guided drive, which takes you past iconic monuments like The Mittens, John Ford's Point and Three Sisters. On your drive up from Scottsdale, plan a stop at the Navajo Interactive Museum in Tuba City, where displays approximate the journey Navajos take through life. Travel tip: Since this is a longer drive, plan an extra day and tuck in for the night at historic Goulding's Lodge or The View Hotel Monument Valley.

GRAND CANYON NATIONAL PARK Drive Time (each way): 3 hrs., 45 min.

The Grand Canyon is one of the world's most famous natural landmarks, and nothing can prepare you for its size or the intensity of its colors. Explore the South Rim, where the Canyon's breathtaking combination of geologic color and erosional formations is on full display. nps.gov/grca

SEDONA & JEROME

Drive Time (each way): 2 hrs., 15 min.

Part artists' community, part New Age spiritual center and part outdoor adventurer's dream, Sedona boasts a stunning red-rock landscape, off-road adventures, energy vortex tours and outstanding dining, shopping and cultural experiences. If you have time, add a detour to nearby Jerome. Once a copper mining town, this hilly enclave perched atop Cleopatra Hill is now a thriving artists' community filled with galleries, craft shops, restaurants and wine-tasting rooms. visitsedona.com / jeromechamber.com

PRESCOTT

Drive Time (each way): 2 hrs.

Once Arizona's territorial capital, Prescott is a small town with a grand history. Go kayaking at the Granite Dells, browse the Sharlot Hall Museum and enjoy shopping, dining and live music on Whiskey Row. And if you decide to spend the night, check out the historic Hassayampa Inn, where guests and employees have reported encounters with a gentle, heartbroken ghost named Faith. experienceprescott.com

KARTCHNER CAVERNS

Drive Time (each way): 3 hrs., 13 min.

Kartchner Caverns is one of the world's only "living" caves open to the public. Daily tours showcase breathtaking underground formations like Kubla Kahn, the largest column formation in Arizona.

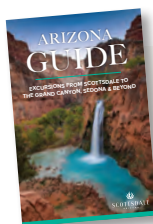

azstateparks.com/kartchner

BISBEE (right)

Drive Time (each way): 3 hrs., 22 min.

Must-sees in this historic copper mining boomtown include the Queen Mine Tour, Bisbee Mining & Historical Museum, Copper Queen Hotel, and a selection of restaurants, bars, shops and galleries.

GET Around Town!

Whether you're looking for an elevated option for getting from one place to the next or a fun way to see the sights around town, we've got you covered with six traditional and non-traditional ways to get a move on in Scottsdale.

RIDE. SMILE. REPEAT.

That's the slogan for Rydables, battery-powered carts designed like a variety of colorful characters from elephants and cows to piñatas and smiling saguaros. Let Kactus Jock take you on a fun-filled adventure to learn about the history of Old Town Scottsdale and explore restaurants, shops and public art along the way.

RENT AN E-BIKE

As in, electric bike! At Old Town's Pedego Scottsdale or Magnum E Bikes, rent battery powered bikes that let you do as much – or as little – pedaling as you like while you explore the local galleries, restaurants, shops and museums. Over at Rides N Motion, you can rent electric bikes, Evolve all-terrain skateboards and two-wheeled Phat electric scooters.

TAKE A RIDE

JoyRidesAZ Scottsdale Tours provides golf cart transportation in Old Town and beyond, as well as a variety of guided experiences ranging from wine tasting and culinary adventures to gelato tours and an introduction to Old Town's best Instagram walls. And if you like a good mystery, Puzzle Rides combines the fun of a treasure hunt with the challenge of an escape room on their 75-minute escapades through Old Town.

LET THE PROS DRIVE

Scottsdale's ground transportation providers offer luxury sedan and limousine transportation throughout the city. In addition to airport pick-up and point-to-point transportation, they're also the perfect choice for pub crawls, wine tours and nights on the town. You can even try out Waymo's autonomous vehicles around town! See transportation listings on pg. 132.

PEDAL & PARTY

The Arizona Party Bike is a 15-passenger merrymaking machine that cruises around Old Town on pedal power (yours), making stops at three popular local bars and pubs. The bike comes complete with a rockin' sound system, LED party lights and a motor assist – just in case you're having too much fun to pedal.

"LEAN" INTO FUN

For the most excitement you can have standing up, try a Segway tour! It might take a few minutes to master the lean – the movement that makes these two-wheeled fun machines go – but anyone can do it under the guidance of Scottsdale Segway Tours' guides. They'll have you rolling through Old Town in no time at all.
